"HEAP BIG SHOW!"

Yesterday Was a Dull One All Along the Line

Parade Today, and Crowds For Balance of the Week

Our country cousins were not in evidence yesterday in such vast numbers as on opening day of the Carnival, yet the fun and hilarity continued just the same.

The Haymakers had the day all to themselves and what they lacked in numbers was fully made up in lung power and amusing antics.

It is at night that the Carnival is seen to the best advantage.

The streets are crowded with jolly souls out for a good time, and with the laughter and shouts of the sight-seers and the spellers at the various shows with their set speeches, there is enough going on to give variety and spice.

Today is Merchant's Day and it is expected that all wide-awake firms in the city will be represented in some manner.

It is said some very pretty floats will be in the parade, and with three bands in line there will be music galore.

The parade will be made up as follows:

Grand Marshal Klipp and Aids.
Olivette's Royal Italian Band.
Executive Committee.

City and County Officials in Decorated Carriages.
Outen's Band.

Decorated Floats Representing Leading Maysville Business Houses.

Form at Third and Plum streets and follow line of march as in Tuesday's parade.

The Maysville Assembly will entertain with a Ball at Neptune Hall tonight.

Mr. Willson January's health has greatly improved since his return to the city.

The Directors of the Maysville Warehouse Company will have a meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Matters of importance will be discussed.

The Haymakers Band visited the peaceful little village of Aberdeen across the river yesterday, and not since the memorable occasion during the Civil War when the young ladies of that town came over to this side and demanded the surrender of the city from Mayor Trussell, has there been such a commotion among its residents as did this grotesque musical organization create. After a parade of the town to the amusement of the populace they returned to this side.

"There Isn't One Really Good Printer in Five Hundred."

Printers' Ink—the leading journal on publicity of all kinds—has the following to say: "There are thousands of printers in this country, good, indifferent, and a lot of bad ones. There isn't one really good printer in five hundred. Intelligent advertisers are willing to pay for good printing, no matter where it comes from."

Printers' Ink knows what it is talking about. Poor printing is a bad investment—it's worse than a blank. A business man's stationery or booklet is like a traveling man—if it's neat, well-dressed and to the point, the first impression is good and your chances of doing business on the strength of it are good.

We realize this. We keep abreast of the times. We know what good printing is and produce it. We are pretty careful not to let a bum job get onto our presses. No printer in the country can better our printing and we want you to know it.

IMMENSE TOW

The Powerful Sprague On Her Way to Pittsburgh With Empties

The largest tow of empty coal craft ever taken up the Ohio river by a single boat, and the largest towboat on the rivers of the Middle West, passed yesterday.

The boat which is handling this tow is the Sprague of the Monongahela Consolidated Coal and Mining Company.

In front of the boat are 24 coalboats, with a capacity of 26,000 bushels each, and 17 barges with a capacity of 13,000 bushels each when loaded, covering in all a space of about eight acres.

The craft is being taken from New Orleans to Pittsburgh for reloading and to be then shipped South again.

The Sprague is the largest boat ever built for use on a river. She is 321 feet long and is equipped with every convenience to be found on an ocean-going vessel.

On her last trip to New Orleans the Sprague towed 56 coalboats of 1,000 tons each. This cargo is equal to 56 trainloads of 30 cars each.

There is some doubt among rivermen as to whether the Sprague can reach Pittsburgh on the present stage of water. She may be forced to go to the bank and wait for a rise.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green are hospitable entertainers, but they would like to know who their guests were at supper last evening. After their own regular evening meal they came down to the city to take in the sights. The parties were evidently of the many hoboes now guests of the city.
